Renting and Purchasing Tips

Renting or purchasing an instrument is a very important first step in your child's music education. As educators, we put together recommended lists based on years of experience and extensive research. The recommended list of instruments are quality instrument. To find these instruments, we have provided three reputable music stores that carry these brands and have knowledgeable sales staff. Please avoid and refrain from buying the following brands: Mendini, Etude, Cecilio, anything that you can purchase from Costco or Amazon. These brands are very difficult to tune and even more difficult to repair. Most repair shops will NOT repair these brands. If you find an instrument elsewhere, please contact a director for guidance and approval. Let us help you find the best instrument for your child and start the year of right!
